Glades Banks Gain $1,906,553 In Assets For 33% Gain During Year; Increase Surpluses $95,000; Loans Increase Over Half Million Dollars

News From Your Town Hall

An electrical code based on one in use in the City of Coral Gables has been adopted for the City and D. B. Mathis has been employed as electrical inspector. Another milestone in the progress of the City.

The Chamber's move to determine just how the voters of Belle Glade feel about a City Manager is an excellent one. It is our opinion that a majority of the voters want a City Manager.

After all, the City's business is not picayunish as to the amount of money involved. Then, homes in Belle Glade do not pay any appreciable amount of taxes due to the much overruled property tax exemption law, but everyone wants streets, city lights, garbage collection, police, health and fire protection.

A contract was made for an estimate and plans on a sewerage disposal plant and system. Do we need this or not? The idea of a city manager, however, son should answer that; if that's not convincing then consult a doctor or public health official.

With a Manager, parking meters, new water works, a sewerage system, more streets, lighting, police, where now? We're going to do this for nothing—the money's got to come from somewhere.

George Royal Is Selected As A Bank Director

George L. Royal of Belle Glade was elected a director of the First National Bank in Palm Beach which the management of the stockholders held on Tuesday in the bank's auditorium. Mr. Royal is a successful merchant in the Glades area, owning a number of general merchandise and department stores in Glades, Lake Harbor, Clewiston, Canal Point, South Bay and Indiantown. His 16 years in the Everglades has won him a host of friends. Mr. Royal is married and his wife, Mrs. Royal, has two sons aged 16 and 6.

Wiley R. Reynolds, president, presided at the meeting and announced the bank had had its most successful year. Total net earnings were $753,225, while deposits totalled $2,946,000 on December 31. He reported to the stockholders that over $47,000,000 was represented in cash, savings and other marketable bonds in addition to $9,000,000 in loans and discounts.

The stockholders voted to continue paying a monthly dividend. Mr. Reynolds stated there would be extra dividends declared from time to time by the directors as in the past. It was also voted to hold the regular annual stockholders meeting on the last Tuesday in each January, hereafter.

Sincere appreciation was expressed by Mr. Reynolds to the bank's customers, friends, stockholders and employees for the extremely fine record the bank has made during 1945. The directors meeting will be called in the very near future.

Naval Recruiter To Visit Here

A recruiter for the Navy will visit here Friday, January 18, at the City Hall from 10 to 11 a.m. and Saturday, January 19, from 10 to 11 a.m. Enlistments are desired from the age group of 17 to 30, and those with previous military service who want to re-enlist. Chief Charles Holcomb from the West Palm Beach office will gladly explain the many new benefits which have been granted by legislation for men enlisting in the regular Navy. Any one interested may also apply at the Post Office Building in West Palm Beach any week day other than Friday and Wednesday.

Celery and Taters Crowding Packing House Operations

Working Out a Sanitary System for New Okeechobee-Lanta Labor Camp

It is a real fact that many persons residing in Belle Glade and its farm area, know little about the packing house business, the immense sums invested in the houses, equipment, trucks for hauling and the volume of vegetables sold by every farmer in the section. Not only does physical employment mean thousands to laborers, but the clerical force required to keep books run up to considerable figures. Millions go out in payment for produce, working and clerical wages.

This week all the celery packing house pleads are humanizing the handling of potatoes, celery and cabbage, and very few beans, as the latter are about out until the spring crop, owing to the last killing frost on January 2nd. Prices are running well toward ceiling on all their commodities.

Members are requested to grade as selling at the platforms and in auction sales from $2.50 to $3.75 for US No. 1s. Celery is steady at $4.50 up. The pack this week is superior to most any celery yet grown in the Glades. In fact, the entire grading is good. Celery is packed in boxes and putting up "heart" bunches this year, but may do some of it at the close of the

Record Auto Tax Sales

The sale of 1945 auto taxes is now over and the various town stands, and Stetson Sprout reports that record sales have already been reached, with near 11,000 tags issued. January 15th is the dead line for having old tags on your vehicle. The Belle Glade office is open the last three days of each month, the office just off the city hall. The office in Pahokee is open the first three days of the week.

Enlarges Market

Captain "Whittle," who operates the fishing camp out at the lake, has also retail market at Avon Park, is building a sizeable concrete addition to his market, to provide better facilities for his business.

Police Give Aid At An Unexpected Birth Summons

On Sunday evening the local police received a call that turned up strange complications. They went to an apartment over the Kalem department store and found a young woman in a semi-conscious condition, and a crying baby, unattended, lying in a nearby bureau drawer.

Officer Fred Cochran saw that something drastic had to be done, so unable to secure the services of local physicians, he telephoned to Pahokee and got an emergency call to Dr. Elmore.

Meantime, Cochran had phoned the Migratory hospital where an obliging nurse instructed him how to give necessary care of the infant as the mother's first experience as a midwife.

Police got Bonnie Pope to come in and assist in getting the mother and child in condition for an ambulance ride to the Pahokee hospital, paying the expenses out of their own pockets.

The woman, and another unnamed woman, who came here from a Georgia city in September, stated to police that the father of the child is a service man now on duty in the South Pacific and is not able to be here to claim his fatherhood.

Dr. Stahl To Speak on Fruit Preservation

Persons interested in the preservation of citrus and tropical fruits and vegetables will have an opportunity to hear Dr. A. L. Stahl, associate horticulturist of the Experiment Station at Gainesville, who will speak at the County Court House in West Palm Beach at 10 o'clock this evening of January 15.

Dr. Stahl has conducted research on this subject for many years and will bring with him his products with him for exhibition.

Members of the Home Demonstration Club especially will find this meeting very beneficial as well as interesting, it has been pointed out by County Agent M. U. Mounts and Berthill Hill Nunn, home demonstration agent.

Crimes Galore Give Police a Hectic Week End

The past week end was one of the most active and hectic that the police of the city, county and surrounding areas experienced, and there were many incidents that they were flying around like a chicken with its head off. To entom the hundred or more offenders, it would have required the services of several stenographers. There were cuttings, fights, fast driving, robbery and auto wrecks, and a police court session on Monday night.

A number of the many prisoners in the small city jail were later taken to the county jail at West Palm Beach by Constable Ray Whitlock and Deputy Sheriff Frank O'Connell.

The chamber is to arrange for a question period when the question will be presented pro and con, before civic clubs and an open forum meeting, to determine the city-wide opinion on the question. Later, a number of voting booths will be established about the city, where people will be asked to vote by citizens expressing their opinions on the question. Upon this election opinion, if favorable, the chamber will prepare a program for presentation to the City Commission, as a helpful gesture to give it backing in a decision of carrying out such city sentiments.

Tuberculosis Tests By State Health Rig Here January 21-22

A portable machine to make fluorescence tests for tuberculosis will be in Belle Glade on Mondays, the 21st, for whites over 15, and on Tuesday for negroes over 15 at the negro school house. A day will be spent at the white migratory camp as well as the negro migratory camp in addition to the above schedule.

All whites over 15 are wanted, especially school teachers, food handlers, pre-natal, unemployed, disabled, janitors, contacts and midwives.

All local clubs are being contacted in an effort to secure the examination of as many whites as possible. As the campaign is set up to handle about a hundred per hour, schedules will be worked out so that the examiner can fit in his first appointment as midwife.

Dr. Leviton of the Migratory hospital staff appeared before the Lions club and will appear before the Rotary.

Dance At Country Club

The first dance of the new year at the Country Club of the Glades will be held Saturday night, January 12th.

The Melody Makers will furnish the music and a record crew is expected. The Entertainment Committee expects to continue these dances twice monthly during the season.

Chamber Favors City Manager For Our City

Many Vital Question Are Discussed By the Directors

Every meeting could be largely attended and as much pep shown by directors as was exhibited at the Monday night session, the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce could be an outstanding organization in the community.

Most of the officers sat directly together in a round table discussion, looking to future welfare of the region it serves, and much was accomplished along that line.

First, the chamber went on record as favoring the immediate hiring of a city manager by the City Commission, as the stage time and need for the services of such an official were most apparent, and time should not be lost in arranging and selecting such a man to handle important city affairs.

The chamber is to arrange for a question period when the question will be presented pro and con, before civic clubs and an open forum meeting, to determine the city-wide opinion on the question. Later, a number of voting booths will be established about the city, where people will be asked to vote by citizens expressing their opinions on the question. Today's Privilege. Tomorrow's Opportunity
Much of the conflict and disorganization of the moment has been popularly excused as the "let-down" from war. But there are those who cannot let down, and under no circumstances would be excused if they did. The railroads are a pertinent case. For them the war is reaching a terrific transportation climax. More troops are moving right now than at any time during the war—starting with 13,000,000 in November, still more coming, and it's going to be much more for several months to come.

This time the men are heading home. Every delay is a galling disappointment. Except where it is humanly impossible to give the railroads we will not disappoint the veterans on his homeward trip. Railroad people know how the veterans feels. Many of them are waiting for members of their own families to return. They can be counted upon to drive themselves and their equipment to the limit with enthusiasm. It is a rare privilege to have a part in bringing millions of men home after nearly four years of war. And no railroad worth its salt looks upon it as anything other than that—a privilege.

Even in these hectic days of demobilization and readjustment, the railroads have their eyes fixed on the future, on the time when the battle-weary veterans will no longer be satisfied with just anything on wheels. The release of material which could not be had during the war has enabled them to get started on a large-scale program of improvements, including new locomotives, new and better cars and trains and more of them. Many improvements the public will never see. They will be in technical developments that do not show.

No, the railroads are not among those who have let down. What is more, they obviously have no intention of letting down in the future.

LET THE SOLDIERS KNOW

A soldier landing in the United States from the South Pacific, after getting his discharge, found thousands of men waiting at the demobilization center to get on trains. It was hard for men who had been away from home two, three and four years or longer, to understand why railroad cars were not immediately available. Most of them did not know that during the whole war period, railroads were prohibited from buying any new equipment. They did not know that the staggering war load which surpassed any transportation job in history, was moved faster and with fewer cars and engines than was the transportation load during and after the first World War.

Few of the men knew that when the railroads were permitted to place orders for troop-carrying cars after this war ended, strikes held up deliveries. Neither did the men know that for such troop-carrying cars as the railroads have been able to get, strikes delayed the supplying of beds and equipment.

It is only fair to state that many of the causes which delay the movement of returning veterans are entirely beyond the control of the railroads.

In November, troop movements across our country totaled 1,300,000, with the number expected to increase. The railroads had to provide 97 per cent of all transportation for military personnel traveling under orders. Their biggest job now is getting out soldiers and sailors back home. They hope that when congestion occurs, those who are incommoded will understand some of the reasons responsible for delays. And last but not least, the American people, including the families of our armed forces, are demanding traveling space as never before, which often adds to the problem of handling returning veterans promptly.

SELLING BY SAVING

Those who advocate that this country now needs perpetual price control to prevent the public from being "gypped" by rapacious manufacturers and retailers, should correct their reasoning in the facts.

To begin with, modern American industry and retailing can exist only by producing and selling goods in volume at a price the people can pay. And the cheaper they can produce and sell the goods, the more they can sell.

To take a specific case: How does the coal industry hope to make a profit? Certainly not by selling the least amount of coal at the highest possible price per ton.

Instead of being satisfied with mining the greatest amount of coal per man of any country in the world, American producers are actually trying to increase the use of coal by showing the average householder how to build new homes with chimneys of sufficient size to get greater efficiency out of every ton of coal used, and thereby actually save money.

America was built on the low-cost production philosophy. So why assume that we must now depend on non-producing price controllers to tell the producers and the sellers and the consumers how to live? The American industrial and selling technique has brought this nation the highest living standards in the world.

HAS OWNERSHIP ANY RIGHTS?

Only Congress can remodel our one-sided and ineffectual labor laws so that they will represent fairness and equality. Under present labor legislation, all manner of biased rulings have been secured by labor leaders against industry. Abuses have become soodiferous that they have finally reached the public's nostrils.

One of the latest moves of labor leaders to alienate public as well as Congressional good will, is their attempt to compel executive or supervisory employees to join labor unions. This is nothing more nor less than an attempt to gain control of management without any financial obligation or responsibility.

If managerial and supervisory employees can be forced into unions, management might as well turn the industries over to the unions to operate, for there would be no one left on the side of management to represent the owners. If Congress fails to correct this situation, there will be no more freedom of enterprise in the United States.

The Pullman conductor one night found a red lantern hanging on a berth, so he looked up George, the porter, and asked, "George, why is that red lantern hanging there?"

"Well, boss, rule 2 in the rule book says that you should always hang up a red lantern when the rear end of the sleeper is exposed"—Railroad Trainman.

CINEMATIC CHATTER — By Malcolm McLean
The Sunday-Monday screening at the Everglades Theatre brings Ida Lupino and Walter Connell as the stars of "Pillow Talk."

The story the day is an Army story and there are more laughs per minute in this picture than have been registered in any time in a show of this kind.

It is not often that we see Walter Huston in a comedy, but believe me when I say that he has a real comedy flair when he is in it. I am sure he is seen in an entirely different role than we are accustomed to seeing her in, and one that she certainly suits. I varied talents, I think. You're sure you enjoy this picture?

Tuesday - Wednesday Jack Oakie and that clever lady Peggy Ryan are teamed and starred together in a musical comedy under the title "The Flame Dancers."

"This is the Spirit." This piece must be admitted to be very spirited and contains some of the most foot tapping music ever seen in one of Peggy's pictures.

On the same bill with this show comes "The Falcon in San Francisco," which stars Tom Conway and Rita Corday. This is a very exciting story and quite a bit to be used stage of thrillers that are provided in the Falcon's series.

National Vegetable Authority To Speak To Local Farmers

Porter R. Taylor, formerly manager of the Cooperative Fruit and Vegetable Association in Washington, has recently been appointed in charge of the Fruit and Vegetable department of the Federal Farm Bureau. Mr. Taylor, whose nationality in his line is visiting Florida during the week of Jan. 13-19, and will include the Glades in his itinerary with a visit at the City Hall on the night of January 15th with local leaders. Lennie Stuckey, president of the Florida Vegetable Committee, and the general committee chairman of this organization, are urging all farmers to meet with Mr. Taylor and discuss problems that need Washington representation.

Mr. Taylor will visit the farming section in the afternoon and get a birds-eye view of the activity. Dade County vegetable growers and the Dade County Farm Bureau will hold a breakfast for Mr. Taylor Monday night.

From the Glades Mr. Taylor will go to Winter Haven to be the principal speaker at an "All Day Citrus Institute."

The local chapter of the Vegetable Brokers plan to attend the Belle Glade meeting as a body.

Successful Bond Sales

Of the eighteen Florida counties who met to fill their Victory Loan drives, four made loan sales of over $1,000,000. Okeechobee, Okaloosa and Marion. The eighth loan drive nation over was a big success as the eleven billion desired, reached near the 22 billion dollar mark. Palm Beach county is still some short on its E-bond requirements.

Fisheries Meeting

The Lake Okeechobee Commercial Fisheries Association is to hold an important business session in the court house at Okeechobee, the coming Sunday, January 13th.

Merchants of Lakeport, Okeechobee and Moore Haven, with representation of the lake county commissioners boards, will be invited guests, and will participate in the doings of the day.

Finishing New Plant

The new Lenny Stuckey fertilizer plant at Pahokee is now nearing completion and installation of new machinery is in progress. Mr. Stuckey expects to be producing goods in time for the spring crops.

Hand Out Checks

Following its annual custom the Clewiston Motor Club has enriched the treasures of the Boy Scouts in Belle Glade, Pahokee and Canal Point, with checks for one hundred dollars. The Pahokee Rotary club has also a check for $93.75 to the PTA organizations at Canal Point and Pahokee.

Silas Green Comes Again

The Silas Green negro shows which have been making annual visits to the Glades soon for more than a score of years, is billed for another visitation here on January 18th. This appearance is always a big event for the colored field workers, who pack the tent to the doors.

Jail Being Renovated

The city police force, in addition to their regular work, are now giving the city jail a complete renovation and applying much needed paint on the interior finishing.

Martin County Now Interested In Ramie

Martin county commissioners and its agricultural agent, have been over in the Glades studying the situation, going over the plantations, and the new processing plants being erected by the Florida Ramie Corporation at Belle Glade and the Newport industries at Canal Point.

Market Come This Week

The Gobel Construction Company, which has the contract for the new water works building, is now making good headway in its construction work, and have a large force of various craftsmen at work on the job. It is a possibility that the long-awaited placement on the dykes and the construction work, may arrive here by the end of this week.

When they come, and can be installed, the connection will be temporarily made to the press-pumping system, and Belle Glade will be using pure Lake Okeechobee water for domestic uses.

Prince Again Made Chairman of The Commission Board

Palm Beach County Commissioners at their meeting Monday reorganized for the year 1946 by again selecting John Prince, of Lake Worth, as its chairman, and C. Y. Byrd, of Delray as vice-chairman. Henry Lilenthal as county attorney and reinstated Jake Boyd, county engineer. Lilenthal will be paid $3000 a year salary, and Boyd $4800. County employees, not under statute pay, were all given a boost in pay to help meet the cost of living.

The board decided that it would appear to the Supreme Court, the decision handed down by Judge Chillingworth in relation to the division of the county into five districts on a basis of population.

One of the new projects for the year suggested by Chairman Prince, was the starting of plans ### for the building of an additional wing to the present court house to meet ever increasing demand for court house offices.

Representative Of Veterans Administration To Visit Here Weekly

M. Bryson, manager of the Veterans Administration office in West Palm Beach, will be in Pahokee Wednesday night, provided over by O. B. McClure, a motion was unanimously passed asking the Board of Commissioners of the Everglades Drainage District to release engineering data and estimated costs of dredging relief from flood conditions.

The resolution which was introduced by Sam Chastain and seconded by Benne Bensel, intended to include the Palm Beach Canal and all lands tributary to and affected by the canal.

Discussions brought out the fact that the area about which the resolution was passed, is of much importance key to an overall plan of control for the Glades and the lower basin as water from the St. Lucie Canal pinewoods flows south into the muck farming areas of the county.

Now three distinct groups have taken steps to create legal entities and provide possible funds for flood control, the island land owners, who propose to dye the islands, the Hillsboro group, and the West Palm Beach Canal group.

At approximately 90 per cent of the taxes of the Everglades District, and three distinct groups have taken definite action to help themselves, and are wondering whether the Governor will get time to see it.

Roger Garrison, who is from the contact office in West Palm Beach, will handle the Belle Glade application. Mr. Garrison is a veteran of World War II.

Duck Ponds Are Gone

That lake-like region on Main Street, which has been such a noted attraction and eyesore, is passing out of the scene. The State Highway department has been getting busy and is filling it up with rock. There are a lot of rough and deep ridges along the Main street right of way, which could use considerable rock to fill off the berms, the sharp edges of which are costly to auto tires.

Boy Scout Group Leaders Named

At the annual meeting of the Gulf Stream Council of the Boy Scouts of America, at West Palm Beach, Tuesday, Dr. Carl Herman, Jewish rabbi, was elected president and H. H. Rawlerson, of Okeechobee, vice-president. Group leaders chosen for the Glades region were Dow of Canal Point for the north region, and Joe Friedheim of Belle Glade for the south region.

Silas Green Comes Again

The Silas Green negro shows which have been making annual visits to the Glades soon for more than a score of years, is billed for another visitation here on January 18th. This appearance is always a big event for the colored field workers, who pack the tent to the doors.

Palm Beach Canal Area Owners Ask E.D.D. For Relief

At a meeting of the Committee of the Palm Beach Canal in Pahokee Wednesday night, provided over by O. B. McClure, a motion was unanimously passed asking the Board of Commissioners of the Everglades Drainage District to release engineering data and estimated costs of dredging relief from flood conditions.

The resolution which was introduced by Sam Chastain and seconded by Benne Bensel, intended to include the Palm Beach Canal and all lands tributary to and affected by the canal.

Police also found indications that the men had probably come to the Glades to commit crimes, as in their car they found tires, tubes, cigarettes, candy, crackers, razor blades and other goods.

The stolen car found in their possession had been picked up at Mobile, Ala., and it was there that the police secured their tip to pick up the men.

Police are investigating the car, stealing rampage after Christmas and had traveled as far north as Nashville, Tenn., and as far west as New Mexico. They were in that time, one of which was in their possession at the time of their arrest here.

New York Man Locates Business In South Bay

Alfred Heisman of Albany, N.Y., arrived last week to inspect his home in Belle Glade. Mr. Heisman was preceded to South Bay by his wife, who came here before the holidays and is interested in Martha's Dress Shop. He remarked on the delightful climate and said he had mentioned that he was delayed in getting to South Bay because of a four day snow storm which tied up traffic to the winter sport of skiing so much enjoyed in that climate. The snow was too deep and light for the sport and the roads were waiting for the snow to pack sufficiently to enable them to resume their sport. What a contrast to the sunny skies and balmy winds of the Everglades.

P.T.A. Meeting

Mr. S. M. McAllister presided over a session of the executive board of the School Parent Teacher Association at the school Monday afternoon at 3:30. Plans were completed for the next regular session which will be conducted in the school auditorium on Tuesday, January 14 at 7:30. All parents and friends of the school are invited to attend this business and program session.

Ike's Aide Tells Inside War Story

Rescuing the man with General Eisenhower? He is his war-time Naval aide, Captain Harry C. Butcher, whose diary, "My Three Years With Eisenhower," has been purchased by the Saturday Evening Post for $125,000 and will be the first part of a magazine series. It will run in the magazine through the February 16 issue. Captain Butcher's diary also will be published in books by Simon and Schuster. It has been given without royalties to the Armed Services Editions for service men and women overseas.

Eisenhower's Naval Aide Opens Intimate War Diary to Public

Captain Harry C. Butcher, General Eisenhower's Naval aide, kept a diary for three years of the things he saw, heard and observed at his headquarters. When he returned home last year, he found his diary written more than 1,000,000 words. War correspondents had spread news of the fabulous contents of the diary and soon Butcher was besieged with offers for publication of his notes.

In the spirited bidding that followed, the Simon and Schuster firm made the top offer of $175,000—reputedly the highest price ever paid for a diary. Captain Butcher and Schuster received the book publishing rights and will issue the diary in book form in two 10-installment series completed.

Butcher's opportunity to write a new kind of history resulted from a friendship with Eisenhower, who was his superior officer 19 years ago. He was then a Major and coach of the Army's football team. For two years he had come to Washington on a trip every summer to see his brother, Eisenhower's younger brother, Milton. In 1941, when General Eisenhower was assistant to the Chief of Staff and to the Assistant Secretary of War.

When Eisenhower received his appointment as Commander-in-Chief of the Army Forces, he asked permission of Admiral King for assignment of his naval aide, Captain Butcher, as his naval aide. Admiral King permitted Ike to name his own officer and Butcher was chosen.

It was Eisenhower's idea that Butcher keep a diary. His primary duty was in having mere with Glades farmers to raise celery, and again many have come south, purchased land and developed their own farms, one of whom was the Dude Brothers, from Oviedo, who have made a magnificent improvement on several sections of land southeast of the Experimental Farm. As long as market demand continues, prices are probably stable and plant destruction is kept to the minimum, greater expansion in the celery business can be expected in the Glades area.

With increased celery production, expansion of packing houses may also be expected, along with pre-cooling plants, for such treatment now seems imperative in the successful marketing of perishable vegetables. Ice plant capacities are also being materially expanded.

There are several types of celery grown in the local area, and crops develop in from 80 to 90 days, again as much as 120 days farther north in the state. While iceberg lettuce has had success, the crop has not with success, yet the acreage is not near as large as market people expect it to become in the future.

season, Cabbage has come on and has headed up well and there seem a steady market for all outside of the Glades and the smaller portion of red.

Was talking to a woman the other day who was marketing

here, and she made the remark, that she wondered why it was,

local stores did not keep fresh green vegetables, and I responded that the sickly looking wares

sometimes grace the counters and bins. That is a sixty-four dollar question. Who will give the correct answer?

Few, if any, local merchants get in giving packing houses, but import it back here from the Miami and Palm Beach markets, after wholesalers have carted it from the Glades and sent it back here for retail purposes. Is it any wonder that prices are high on vegetables and other items?

During the harvest season there can usually be found from five to fifteen vegetable commodities that could be marketed locally, but at times none are available.

Handie Rubin is happy, for he has gotten his new potato machine erected and in operation, and it is working and producing in a highly satisfactory manner. My, those taters do look fine as they roll up the line, lined up in a great array of various sizes and shapes except that once in a while an oversized tater gets squeezed too much and looks uncomfortable.

T. W. Miller of the State board of health was a visitor at the Agricultural Experiment Station, and he and his crew came to make inspection and work out plans for the sanitary housing of a group of Jamaican negroes who are coming to work for the Okeelanta Development Corporation.

The department is pretty strict on requirements for such camps as it is the agency held responsible for the health of the workers.

There was a reported break in the ranks of the celery growers Tuesday when some growers were arrested for illegal cutting price from eight to elevnine cents a box to the laborers.

Despite this fact, most farmers seemed able to get sufficient labor to carry the present rush on celery movement.

HOUSING

That is a problem that you can't brush aside. IT IS NATIONWIDE. The Borchardt Company purchased a tract of land in 3rd Holloway and engaged an architect to lay out the plot providing for 19 homes, a laundry room and yard and playground for children with rock driveways and landscaped with palms and shrubs. The project is an asset to any community and similar projects are being constructed in many cities of the United States.

The homes are prefabricated and are sturdy enough to have served the United States Government in the extreme heat of the South Pacific to the frozen climate of Alaska.

The City Commission issued a permit to us to erect these houses but at a recent commission meeting a protest was made to the project as being a shack town. The protest is groundless and a smoke screen because not a single person whose name is on the petition appeared to really find out what it's all about.

It is not the purpose of the Borchardt Company to spend money for a development that would become a discredit to this community, nor attempt a development that does not have the support of the community. Therefore, to the families waiting for these homes, have patience, a building permit has been issued by the commission and the project conforms to the zoning ordinance for the area, but there will be a delay. The houses are available for quick shipment.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Hall, Claude Harrison, Elizabeth Rice. Some of the injured had long been residents in Belle Glade.

Sheriff John Kirk, Deputy Frank O'Connell, State patrolmen and two police officers from Belle Glade, Justice of the Peace George Tedder and Constable Ray Whitlock all went to the scene of the accident and aided in clearing up the wreck.

An investigation police declared that the accident was due to a driver of a convoy of used military equipment getting off line of traffic leading southward, and that the driver of the northbound truck, which was returning some 30 Belle Glade negroes home from the Big Loop, turned at Pompano, for a week end visit, was unable to pass without sideslapping the truck.

The truck filled with negroes left the highway, turned over, and soon was a mass of flames as a result of the explosion of the gas tank in the rear of the truck. The passengers in the vehicle over their burned bodies and few if any of the riders escaped injury or burns as they had no opportunity of escaping from the fiery prison. Those who did escape, however, extricate some of the injured from the truck and gave what aid could be rendered.

The driver of the Belle Glade bound truck, Luther Carter, and his wife, the latter in an alleged intoxicated condition, managed to get out of the truck. The driver, in the presence of fire, became dizzy, got scared and ran up the roadway, but after Sunday night, delivered himself to the local police. It developed that Carter had sustained severe body burns and he also was carried to the Migratory hospital for treatment. According to messages from the scene were not clear, and it was several hours before the true report of conditions reached police headquarters. Traffic was choked up in both directions on the highway, which resulted in many times for intoxication in various southern states. This fellow just gets drunk and makes himself obnoxious when in that condition.

Chief Parrish and his aids became known among the numerous negro population, there were many expressed over his apprehension, as many had been unwilling "Tex" victims for periods longer than they deserved to admit.

Eddie Davis, one of these offenders, picked up last week at the Rader camp, on a murder charge at Macon, Ga., now admits his identity and the whereabouts of his victim.

A run-down trucking back on a white man of Belle Glade, shows that he's been drinking and 45 times for intoxication in various southern states. This fellow just gets drunk and makes himself obnoxious when in that condition.

Chief Parrish and his aids were not able to prevent people from committing crimes, but they are doing their best to do so for doing it, if committed in the Glades. Known crooks have received word by the grapevine to steer clear of Belle Glade, and are doing it. The officers are doing a mighty good job of protecting property and the safety of our citizens.

NEGLIGENCE PICKED UP

(Continued from page one) and other voodoo packages were uncovered among the motley conglomeration of articles found in his place. A visit to his practicing office showed some equipment made instruments and bottled medicines, and a mammoth douche machine.

When pressed by the police for information where he seemed his medical education, a diploma and certificate to practice medicine and surgery; he was most hazy in his memory. He admitted that he had been practicing his profession in Belle Glade since 1935 and as a result had amassed considerable property.

When he was arrested, and it became known among the numerous negro population, there were many expressed over his apprehension, as many had been unwilling "Tex" victims for periods longer than they deserved to admit.

McMiller will be turned over to the county courts for prosecution on a charge of practicing voodooism, medicine and surgery without proper certification from the State Medical Board.

MANY TIME-SAVING IDEAS
IN GUIDE AVAILABLE TO LOCAL FARMERS,
FARM OWNERS AND POURLA RAISERS

A check list or planning chart, which farmers say is of great help to them in increasing the efficiency of their farms, is one of the features of a 64-page booklet entitled "Sinclair Farm Time-Savers", now being offered without cost by Sinclair Refining Company. The booklet includes a variety of practical and proved ideas for making the farm more efficient and easier of operation. The purpose of the booklet, according to the corporation, is to help make the most of new methods and materials that will make any farm better or smaller a better place to work and live. The booklet gives a wealth of information, such as the best way to care for farm animals, useful tips for gardeners, care of animals, first aid conveniences, painting of farm buildings, methods of disposal, special jobs for tractors, water systems, weather forecasts, and countless modern "tips" to save time and money around the farm.
